

GOMER & NENE INDINO

Gomer and Nene Indino have been serving with Things to Come Mission in Brazil for the past 14 years. The Indinos are eager to return to their ministry in Brazil at the end of 2008. They spent the past few months in their home country of the Philippines where they visited family, friends and churches and had the opportunity to participate in the 50th Anniversary celebration of TCM-Philippines.

Both Gomer and Nene are graduates of TCM's International Grace Bible Institute. Following their graduation in 1987, they served in a variety of ministries in the Philippines. They were actively involved in church planting and pastored a series of four churches, as well as engaging in campus and prison outreach and ministries to youth and children. Gomer also spent two years teaching in TCM's Bible schools.

The Indinos' interest in outreach led them to take a missions course. They began to pray about entering into mission work themselves, and discovered that TCM's Brazil field needed missionaries with church planting and theological training skills. Gomer and Nene believed the Lord was calling them to take up the challenge and go to Brazil as missionaries.

In 1994, Gomer and Nene arrived in Brazil and immediately began language study. Brazil is the only Portuguese-speaking nation in South America. In addition to learning a new language, Gomer and Nene were plunged into cultural adjustments. The food was different and even the eating utensils were different! They were used to using a fork and spoon to eat, but Brazilians use forks and knives. Only children use spoons!

After six months of formal Portuguese language instruction Gomer and Nene were able to enter into full-time ministry. Their primary work involved theological training at TCM's Bible school and working with the Brazilian churches. They also coordinated conferences and seminars for youth from all the churches in the region and led women's & children's ministries.

When Gomer and Nene return to Brazil in December, they plan to resume working with their second church plant in the metropolitan area of Curitiba in southern Brazil. This fledgling church is the result of two and a half years of preparation and outreach. There are currently about 35 adults regularly attending the services, and 70 children come every Saturday for a Good News Club. The Indinos covet your prayers as they return to Brazil to nurture this growing young church, and look ahead to planting other churches.
